tural Outlook-Reading a Conspicuous Feature. New York, June 16.-The stock market

New York, June 16.—The stock market opened with a somewhat uncertain tone, but it developed greater firmness in the subsequent dealings.

The anthracite coal shares were conspicuously strong, with the Reading shares the conspicuous feature in respect of activity on the return to the country of Mr. J. P. Morgan. Sugar Redning was the conspicuous feature of the industrial group, advancing on large transactions. American Steel and Wire was again feverish, and Federal Steel was steady.

In the local traction group Brooklyn Rapid Transit advanced in the opening dealings. The granger shares and the other stocks affected by the agricultural outlook were dull and rather heavy. There were few transactions in the trunk line shares. The Lopdon market for American stocks was somewhat higher than the local closing figures, but foreign houses were not active in the local tractions. figures, but foreign houses were not active in the local dealings.

The stock market this morning was again inconsequent and disappointing to the bulls, who every day expect to see a bull movement develop out of the traders affair that has ruled for the past week or more. Price-opened up a trifle in all parts of the market and then sold off again parts of the market and then sold on again before II o'clock, though in this break they did not reach the low prices of yesterday except in one or two cases. The absence of buying by the leaders was perhaps the most noticeable feature of the early business, and it was the most disappointing, as it is realized that such buying is the only thing that can be expected to cause an advance of this time. The public is out of the market to a large extent except as an investor and is waiting for a decided upturn in prices before it will embark again on the bull side. The outlook for the immediate future of the market is not particularly attractive, but on the other hand, it is not believed that prices will go off much from their present level if any. The GOVERNMENT BONDS. tendency during the coming months will be upward and any day may see the requisite inside buying to inaugurate the move-ment. The news of the business situation is all most satisfactory with the possible exception of the uncertainty regarding the wheat situation which is at present exerwheat situation which is at present exer-cising a depressing effect on the grangers.

The feeling regarding the Federal Steel securities continued most bullish this morning, although their advance during the first hour was not great. The divi-dend is to be declared today on the common stock, however, and it seems certain that the price will be advanced bef mpany regarding its increase earnings during the past six months is also to be given out. A decided advance in the prize of the common would not be surprising, in view of this outlook. The Federal Steel Company is in a peculiar position with regard to the steel business. It mines its own ore, which gives it all the profits in the business, from first to last.

Steel and Wire, common, was weak again, and soon after the opening had reached 59 3-4, the lowest price of yester-day. There was some buying at this level on the theory that the stock would be likeon the theory that the stock would be likely to advance in sympathy with Federal Steel, even if there is uncertainty regarding the dividend on common wire. As to this dividend, the statements are most conflicting, but on the whole the Street is inclined to believe that the dividend will be declared, as has been promised by prople who ought to know.

The grangers were weak again today as has been stated, on account of the gloomy reports regarding spring wheat that have begun to circulate. There was some truth in a general way of the remainder for the group. As has been pointed out in this column repeatedly the granger roads do not depend on the wheat crop. As a matter of fact the increase in their general merchandise freight bids fair to be much larger this year than the loss of wheat can be. The most conservative people in the

The coalers were all strong at the open-nig this morning. Reading first preferred especially advancing nearly two points from the low price of yesterday almost fin-mediately. The supposition is that the return of Mr. Morgan is the buil level in those stocks, and the Street is inclined to believe that they will go considerably higher in the next few days, especially if the general market is favorable.

Sugar was again strong this morning getting above 155 in the early trading and showing a tendency to advance above that level. Inside buying was noticeable in the stock from the beginning of the day.

FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT. Charles B. Hale Arrested and Con

Charles B. Hale, who on Septe last, was appointed guardian of Josephin Cooper, and trustee of her estate, was yesterday arrested on the order of Justice Bradley for contempt of court and com-mitted to jail. The matter was called to the attenti of the court by Edward G. Niles, the at-torney for the infant, Josephine Coop-who charges that her guardian, Hale, was not properly managing her estate, and ask-ed that the guardian's bond be increased and that he be dismisand that he be dismissed.

Upon the hearing of the petition Justice Bradley yesterday issued a rule against the guardian. Hale, for contempt, for his having failed to comply with an order of the court, requiring him to transfer to the Washington Loan and Trust Company the funds of the estate of his ward, Josephine Cooper. He was also required to whether the court of Cooper. He was also required to submit to the court an account of his guard an ship, but this he failed also to do. Hale was arrested by Deputy United Hale was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Cusick.

Admiral Schley Declined to Be Hob

Admiral Schley is still suffering from his sore arm and does very little handishing now. An amusing incident happened while he was on his visit in the West. On one occasion the Admiral was approached by a well-known young lady with a request to shake hands. The Admiral smiliter placed his hand in his cost and told her that it was incapable of any further exactise. For an instant the young lady appeared very much annoyed; then her face beigntened up, and she exclaimed: "But you can shake me by the left hand." "No." answered the Admiral with all seriousness. "I really must save that arm to fasten my collar button with." "That's the matter with the lips," cause the quick shawer. But the Admiral and: "Madam, I took a safe red in my liph borde? I left in the East." The young lady's requests of Admiral Schley were all refused, but the people's pensistent demands are smade to be served with Massum, Senate, or Lagit.
